Memorandum To: Dr. Constance Relihan, Associate Provost
Chair, University Curriculum Committee

From: Dr. Carol Warfield, Head
Department of Consumer Affairs

Through: Dr. Susan Hubbard, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs
College of Human Sciences

Subject: Restricted Enrollment in Interior Design Classes

Effective Fall Semester 2012 the Department of Consumer Affairs is accepting students into a pre-interior design major (INDX). Selections for the 36 students to be admitted into the sophomore class of the Interior Design (INDS) program will be made at the end of one year of required INDS courses. In the past, Interior Design was a capped program from the start, i.e., 36 students were admitted into the freshman classes. Because of our faculty and space limitations, we now realize we need to have the required first year INDS courses restricted only to students in the pre-program (INDX). Therefore, we request that the following courses be restricted to students admitted into the INDX program:

CAHS 1000 Studio I: Introduction to Interior Design (4) LEC/STU 6; Pr., INDX

CAHS 1100 Studio II: Technical Design of Interior Design (4) LEC. 2, LEC/STU 6; PR., INDX

Furthermore, because of the resource limitations cited above, we request that this prerequisite become effective immediately, Fall 2012.

If there are any questions concerning this request, please contact me at 844-1329 or cwarfield@auburn.edu.
